POLICE PAY SPECIAL VISIT TO CHILD

WARRENVILLE, IL – On Friday, September 8, 2017, members of the Warrenville Police Department traveled to Northwestern Medicine Chicago Proton Center, 4455 Weaver Parkway, to support and encourage a child who is undergoing treatment. Eleven year-old Drake Price’s dream is to grow up to become a police officer who, in his hometown in Indiana, has been named an Honorary Junior Police Officer.

Warrenville Police members who met with Drake included the department’s rank and file from patrol officers up to and including the Chief of Police. A notable moment occurred when Chief Turano presented Drake with a plaque affixed with the police department’s uniform patch and with the inscription: “Courage, Commitment, and Strength”, all attributes Drake embodies. Also during the visit, Drake was presented with a custom police-inspired t-shirt that came with the Department’s well-wishes.
